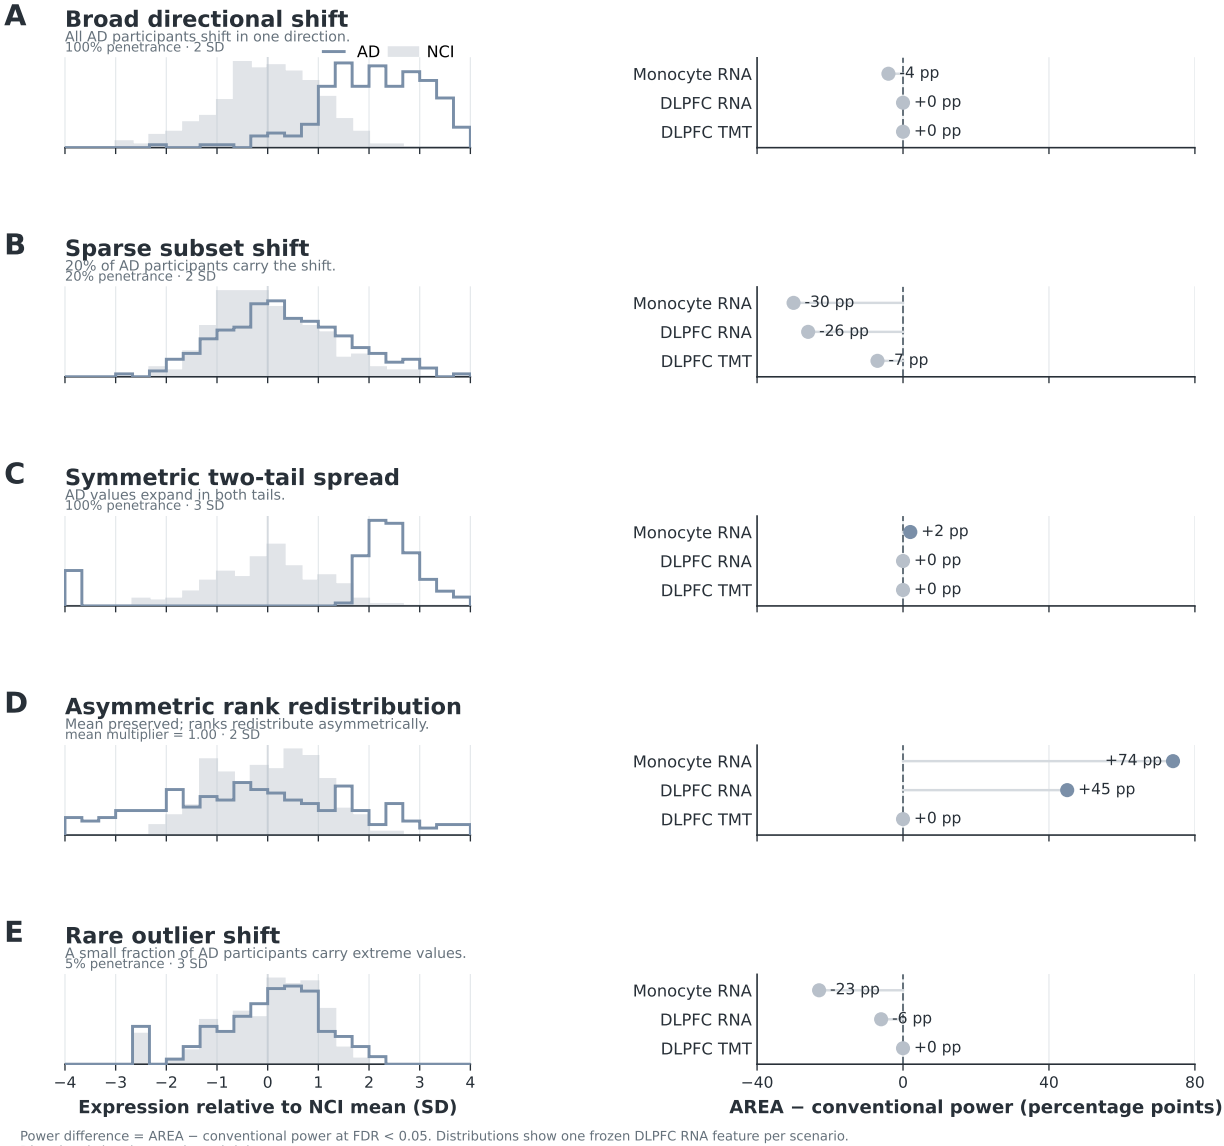
AREA sensitivity depends on signal geometry

ROSMAP-calibrated simulations identify directional/asymmetric rank redistribution as the clearest AREA-favorable regime.



Power difference = AREA − conventional power at FDR < 0.05. Distributions show one frozen DLPFC RNA feature per scenario.
Directional signals are oriented right.